Although we will have historic news in Indianapolis in the next couple of months when, for the first time in Indiana, the new Chabad House is finished, the big news of the summer was the Israel Solidarity Gathering at the Arthur M. Glick JCC on July 27.

That week I was away in Chautauqua, N.Y., and I will be writing more about that later but I spoke to several people who told me how pleased they were with the event on July 27. You can read more about it from Director of Government Affairs David Sklar by going to the JCRC website (www.indyJCRC.org), and clicking on BLOG.

One Indiana connection at Chautauqua was meeting Rachel Eban who lives in Bloomington and is a physical therapist who teaches Feldenkrais Method, a type of body therapy developed by Israeli physicist Moshe Feldenkrais. It is designed to improve human functioning by increasing self-awareness through movement.

Rachel is the wife of Eli Eban, son of Abba Eban, z"l, who was an Israeli diplomat and politician. Eli divides his time between teaching at the Jacobs School of Music, touring as a soloist and chamber musician, and performing as the principal clarinetist of the Indianapolis Chamber Orchestra.

His summers are spent performing and teaching at the Sarasota Music Festival and playing principal clarinet in the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra. He was honored this year for his 31 summers of performing there.

The Jewish community in Indiana has a lot to be grateful for and this can be seen on page 2. We have reports on all kinds of simchas, including birth announcements, art shows, new jobs, a bar mitzvah and even a North Central High School student making it to the semi-finals on Teen Jeopardy!

We also have some sad news with the passing of several prominent members, see page 8. One of those was Charlotte Epstein. She always had sage advice to share, first spoken in Yiddish and then translated to English, and frequently it was humorous. She told interesting stories of experiences with her family and friends (and that included just about everyone Jewish in Indianapolis).

Some of those stories were told by an actress who played Charlotte in the Eugene and Marilyn Glick Indiana History Center's "You Are There 1950: Making A Jewish Home." This was an exhibit from Oct. 2011–Sept. 2012 portraying Benny and Fanny Kaplan's Union Street kitchen in a south-side Indianapolis neighborhood a year after their resettlement from a post-World War II displaced persons camp.

The History Center not only made an exact replica of the Kaplan's kitchen going so far as to spend a year to retrieve their original china from their daughter who lives in California, but also having professional actors play the roles of the different family members and those who came to their aid. Back in 1950, Charlotte had been a tutor for the Kaplan's helping them to learn English.

Charlotte liked to keep informed of what was going on in the community so whenever I saw her, I would tell her whatever news I could muster. Whatever I said, she not only already knew about it, she reported back to me that person's family history from before they were born.

I am sorry I didn't bring a pen and paper whenever I visited her because it would be nice now to have that advice written down to share with others. This prompted me to not let this happen again so when I recently visited a friend of hers, Mrs. Illanea Fishman, I asked her for a pen and scrap paper. With an old envelope and pen in hand, I asked her from all her life experiences, what advice she would give to a young person just starting out. Below is what she said.

1. Get to know someone before you condemn them. Listen to them because maybe they have a problem at home. If after a while your feelings don't change, still be nice to them.

2. If you see someone who needs help and you able to help them, you should.

3. Treat people the way you want to be treated.

4. Sometimes you meet someone and there's something about them that rubs you the wrong way. Find out their background and help them by being their friend.

5. If somebody tells you something, don't tell it to anyone else.

6. Don't blame people for something they did that they couldn't help doing and then don't continue for years to criticize them about it.

Chassidic Rabbi

BY RABBI BENZION COHEN

Amazing times

We are living in amazing times. For the past month we have been seeing hundreds of miracles every day. Here in Israel our enemies have fired about one hundred missiles at us every day, and who knows how many mortar shells. Miraculously these missiles didn't kill anyone. A few people were killed by the mortar shells.

We live in Kfar Chabad, a village five miles east of Tel Aviv. Every day we hear air raid sirens, sometimes from here, and sometimes from the surrounding villages and cities. Baruch Hashem no rockets fell in Kfar Chabad, but we did hear many booms from bombs that fell a few miles away.

A friend of mine, a rabbi in the city Gan Yavne, wrote about a missile that fell in his neighborhood, half an hour before Shabbos. The missile fell next to a synagogue, and broke all of the windows. Glass was scattered all over. He shudders to think what could have happened if the missile had fallen an hour later, when the Shul would have been full with 300 people.

The timing of this war was also an amazing miracle. For years the terrorists in Gaza have been digging tunnels, each of them miles long, into the surrounding villages and kibbutzim in Israel. They were planning to sneak in simultaneously thousands of terrorists to murder and kidnap the innocent civilians. At the same time they planned to fire thousands of missiles at all of the cities in Israel. Hashem spoiled their evil plans, and this war started before they were ready. The army is now destroying their tunnels and missiles.

In addition we have heard about, and seen for ourselves many thousands of acts of kindness and other Mitzvahs that were a result of this war. I go every day to our local Hospital. I ask everyone to pray and work hard to love one another, in order to bring Divine protection to our soldiers and citizens who are in danger. They all respond positively. The story below in italics is just one small example. Every time I read it, it brings tears to my eyes.

To read more stories like this, go to www.partnersinkindness.org and sign up to receive their free emails. This one is from July 30, 2014.

The father of a chaya (soldier) who is now in Gaza told how his son was informed on Friday that his unit will not be going home for Shabbos, which was a problem because they did not have any provisions for Shabbos.

The father ran to the supermarket to buy some things, as much dips and salads as he could, then he stopped at the schwarma place in Petach Tikva. He asked for a portion to be put into an aluminum tray and explained that it was for his son who is in Gaza without food for Shabbos.

The owner said to him "what do you mean for your son? How many soldiers are in his group?" The father answered "70".

The schwarma place owner called all of his workers. They prepared all the schwarma they had, brought out all of their meat, fried schnitzels, prepared Moroccan salads and chips and within an hour he and all of his workers had emptied the entire restaurant and given it over to the father. The father, who has seen people do acts of kindness in his life, just stood there crying and thanking him.

Once a day I receive an email titled, "A Daily Dose of Kindness" with stories like this one. You might want to subscribe

What can I tell you? We are living in amazing times. We believe that our Rebbe is our long awaited Moshiach (Messiah). We are very close to the finishing line, the complete and final redemption, at which time there will be no more evil and no more war. I ask all of you who read this to pray to Hashem to protect all of our soldiers and citizens. Work hard to love one another. Give more charity. Take upon yourself to learn more Torah and do more Mitzvahs. This will certainly hasten our complete and final redemption, and Moshiach will put an end to all evil and there will be no more wars. We want Moshiach now.

As I Heard It

By MORTON GOLD

Engaging music by Fell siblings

Two CD's with an Indiana connection recently came to my attention. Since the performers are Jewish, and the performances are meritorious, they surely rate inclusion in this paper.

The CD's are by Arthur Fell and his younger sister, Eleanor. Eleanor, who passed away last summer, was an extraordinary harpist. She made her mark as a professional harpist performing at such venues as the Rainbow Room, St. Regis and Waldorf hotels in New York City. The "Harp Column" magazine recognized her as one of the most influential harpists of (the 20th) century. Thanks to this CD, Eleanor Fell, Harpist, one does not have to go to the Waldorf to listen to the artistry of Ms. Fell. She was truly an accomplished master of her instrument. Her playing is as sensitive as it is engaging.

She was responsible for the arrangement of every work performed on this CD and countless other compositions. While this CD contains what may be described as high class arrangements of well known tunes, some classical, some popular, the performances are always superb. This CD is but one example of her mastery. It was released by Vanderbilt Music Company, Inc. Box 456; Bloomington, IN 47402.

There are 12 selections performed by Ms. Fell. I was equally impressed by the sensitive renditions of popular songs, (No. 3, 9, and 12) as I was by performances from the classical world. In particular, her rendition of themes from the Rachmaninoff, 2nd Piano Concerto made me wonder if that work might also be performed by a solo harp instead of the piano! No. 7, "Teri's Theme" by Arthur Fell is a sweet and tender ballad and received a loving performance. (Teri is Arthur's wife.)

Anyone who loves jazz and enjoys listening to engaging renditions of tunes mostly from the 1920's will love this CD, Shake Your Blues Away with Jazz. Arthur Fell teamed up with trumpeter David Cross in Africa! They honed their craft with years of music making in Africa, the USA and France. This CD is the remarkable result of a single recording session in 2006. These performances are as interesting musically as they are entertaining. This CD is released by MacJazz Productions Ltd., P.O. Box 400, Guilford, Surrey GU5 OXQ, www.macjazz.co.uk. Mr. Fell may be reached at: arterifell@aol.com

*Dr. Gold is a composer/conductor and a long time columnist for the Post & Opinion. He may be reached at: drmortongold@gmail.com.

Obituaries

Max Cohen, 87, of Gary (Miller Beach), passed away on May 30 at the Wm. J. Riley Hospice Residence in Munster, Ind. Max was born Nov. 15, 1926 in Indianapolis to Isaac and Esther Cohen. The youngest of eleven children, Max was raised in the Orthodox tradition of his Sephardic parents. He attended Manuel High School and enlisted in the Navy at the age of 17 where he trained for the Underwater Demolition Team, the precursor to the Navy Seals, at Fort Pierce, Fla. World War II ended before his unit saw active combat.

Using the GI Bill, Max spent five years obtaining his B.A. and Bachelor of Law degrees at Indiana University. While on campus, he was active with the American Civil Liberties Union both writing for and publishing their campus newsletter. To augment his income while beginning his law practice in northern Indiana, Max worked as a cinder snapper for US Steel for four years. It was there he developed an understanding of union activism. He served as president of the NW Indiana Steelworkers Union.

In 1955, he moved to Gary where he was a partner in the firm of Cohen, Delph and McKenna. Soon thereafter he became a solo practitioner. Max joined the faculty of Valparaiso University of Law in the fall of 1970 as a part-time professor of law teaching Trial Advocacy. He published articles in the Valparaiso University Law Review and published several book reviews. In 1971, Max and Nick Thiros formed the law firm of Cohen and Thiros in Gary, Ind. Through hard work and excellent advocacy, the firm became one of the most prominent law firms in Indiana. Max's pedagogical approach served to nurture and guide the young lawyers of the firm.

Max was one of the most distinguished trial lawyers in the State of Indiana. During his career, he represented a wide variety of clients both in criminal matters and complicated civil matters. In the legal community, Max was known for his great intellectual powers and legendary presence in the courtroom. In addition to being admitted to the State and Federal Courts, the United States Supreme Court, the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit and the Indiana Supreme Court, Max was also admitted to the Supreme Court of the United States.

He belonged to numerous legal organizations, including the Indiana Bar Association, the Indiana Trial Lawyers Association and the American Bar Association. As a member of Association of Trial Lawyers of America, he served on panels at national meetings on criminal law. He served as president of the Gary Bar Association and president of the Federal Bar Association of NW Indiana. He was proud to be selected to join the American College of Trial Lawyers, a prestigious association of trial lawyers from the United States and Canada. He was appointed by a senior judge of the Seventh Circuit to serve on a committee to write instructions for use in criminal cases. In 2001, Max received the Golden Career award from the Indiana State Bar Association for 50 years as an Attorney at Law.

As a teenager, Max read the classics and listened to classical music. Throughout his life, he attended theater, opera, and symphonies for which he had amazing recall of passages and details. A passionate Bears fan, he braved sleet and snow for 25 years to follow his team at Soldier Field. For many years, he played singles tennis with his pals Gary Galloway and later Lionel Cohen at the Mansards Tennis Club. He loved to swim great distances both in pools and in Lake Michigan.

Max is survived by his wife of 33 years, Susan Ridgely-Cohen; children, Melissa Beth Cohen (Daniel Sawochka) and Lukas Cohen (Carla Cohen), both practicing lawyers in NW Indiana; sister, Gladys Nisenbaum; brother, Ben Pardo; and dear grandchildren, Max and Rachel Cohen. He was predeceased by his beloved son, Joshua Benjamin Cohen.

Funeral services were held on June 2 at Burns Funeral Home of Crown Point, Ind., with Rabbi Stanley Halpern officiating. Interment was in Temple Israel Cemetery, Portage.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Cohen Family Fund, Legacy Foundation, 1000 E. 80th Place, Suite 402 North, Merrillville, IN 46410 or Temple Israel, 601 N. Montgomery St., Gary, IN 46403. Obituary assistance by Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary.

John "Abe" H V Evans, III, 62, passed away June 14. He was born to John Hugh Virgil Evans, Jr. and the former Janet Bonnewitz in Yakima, Wash., on Feb. 12, 1951, sharing his birthday and his lifelong nickname with Abraham Lincoln. Abe graduated from Maumee High School in 1969 and received a degree in history and political science in 1973 from Wittenberg University, where he was also actively involved in the music department and Wittenberg's renowned touring choir. It was also during this time Abe began his career as a photographer doing architectural photography for his father's firm. All of these pursuits, as well as restaurant management, auto mechanics and teaching, remained Abe's lifelong interests and led to a variety of careers and two happy marriages.

Following his first wife Suzanne's untimely death in 2003, Abe found new love with a choral friend, Cantor Judith Meyersberg, when the two were singing in Cantabile! and an Indianapolis Arts Chorale production of Leonard Bernstein's Mass. Constant companions for ten years, Abe helped Judy become an excellent photographer, and together they created offbeat and prize-winning Halloween costumes. Abe and Judy officially married in February 2014 after Abe was diagnosed with the colon cancer that took his life.

Abe will be missed for his bass voice, his signature bib overalls with a pocket full of Atomic Fireballs, his Santa Claus impersonations, his obfuscations, and his staunch friendships. He is survived by his wife, Cantor Judith Meyersberg, of Indianapolis; stepdaughter Lisa (Michael) Ilk and grandson Brett Ilk, of Atlanta, Ind.; sister Laura Abigail "Abby" (Theodore) Mathiesen, of Peachtree City, Ga.; nieces

Elaine Rapoport Levinson, 67, was born in Cleveland on Jan. 26, 1947, and graduated from Ohio State University with a degree in education. She married Sanford Levinson on June 15, 1969.

She was honored by several charities for her tireless work, such as Second Helpings and the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, from which she was honored with the Chairman's Citation Award for Service, Leadership and Impact. In September, Elaine will be awarded the Kipnis-Wilson Friedland Award for National Lion of Judah by the Jewish Federation, for inspiring her local Jewish community. She also was responsible for founding the charities Blankets of Kindness and Helping Handbags, among others.

Mostly, she was involved with her dear family. She was a loving wife, selfless mother, devoted friend, philanthropist, mentor, inspiration, and all-around rock star. She was loved and admired by family and countless friends. Never an unkind word, she was a leader who led with love, her glowing example, and an unending supply of sage advice. Her sense of humor kept smiles on all of the faces that surrounded her.

Always a hand to hold. Always a shoulder to cry on. A guiding light and matriarch to her two children, two grandchildren, four nieces and nephew. A best friend and comforting ear to her sister and her mother. Exceptional partner in life, fun and business to her husband of 45 happy years. Simply put, a truly amazing woman, and a blessing to all that knew her. Elaine's love and light will shine on through her family. A beautiful face, a beautiful spirit, a beautiful heart.

Donations in tribute of her life gratefully accepted at Jewish Federation of Greater Indianapolis, Second Helpings, Congregation Beth-El Zedeck and the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

Elaine is survived by her mother Esther Rapoport, her husband Sanford, daughter and son-in-law Sherri and David Klain, son Scott, grandsons Brady and Mason

Klain, sister and brother-in-law Sonny and Steve Hurst and their daughters Debbie and Karen, sister-in-law Sheila Patsiner and her family, Jodi, Marc and Stephanie Patsiner.

Funeral services were held June 29 at Congregation Beth-El Zedeck, with burial following in Beth-El Zedeck North Cemetery. Arrangements by Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary. She tried to "enjoy every day" and hopes you will do the same.

Miriam Dorothy Brill Satinsky, 86, lifelong resident of Indianapolis, passed away June 30. She was born Nov. 6, 1927 to David and Anna Brill. She was a graduate of Manuel High School, was a life member of Congregation Beth-El Zedeck, singing in the Choir for 60 years. She was a longtime volunteer at Hooverwood Nursing Home; active with the temple Sisterhood, where she was in charge of the Torah Fund and a life member of Hadassah.

Miriam is survived by her children: Dan (Dinah) Satinsky of Boston; Sandy Satinsky White (Glen) of Orlando, and Steve (Tina) Satinsky of Brownsburg, Ind., and grandchildren: Sonya Ann Satinsky, Abigail Bette Satinsky and Brandon Meyer Satinsky. (see Obituaries, page IN 10)

Miriam was the widow of the late Meyer Satinsky who passed away in 2006.

Graveside services were held on July 3, 2014 in Beth-El Zedeck North Cemetery. Following the cemetery service, the family gathered at Morningside Apartments, where Miriam had been a resident.

Memorial contributions may be made to Congregation Beth-El Zedeck Sisterhood. Arrangements by Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary.

Charlotte J. Epstein, 87, passed away July 1. She was born in Indianapolis to the late Solomon and Esther Toback, Polish immigrants who came to America for a better life. As a lifelong resident of Indianapolis, she attended School 22 and graduated from Manual High School.

Her life was based on 3 pillars: Family, Faith, Friendships.

Charlotte was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, Samuel, her sister, Rose, and her daughter, Carol. She is survived by her daughter, Paula Fogle (Ned), son, Joel (Debbie), grandchildren, Aaron Fogle, Sam Epstein (Adrienne), and Jessie (Adam), who all adored her. She was also blessed to have four great-grand children, Charlie Epstein, Teddy Epstein, Leah Fogle and Jon Fogle, to whom she was Bubby Schaindel. She also leaves several nieces, nephews and cousins whom she also loved very much. To her, family was more precious than gold.

Charlotte was a devoted long time member of Congregation B'nai Torah and its Sisterhood. To the many children who regularly attended services, she was the "Candy Lady" She always had sweet treats for kids of all ages.

Charlotte had many friends both near and far with whom she enjoyed keeping in touch. Her beautifully hand written letters and cards were legendary and kept by many. Sunday mornings were spent checking in with her friends and family coast to coast.

Charlotte was involved in many organizations. She was a lifetime member of B'nai Brith Women, Hadassah, AMIT, City of Hope, and ORT.

Charlotte had a terrific sense of humor and philosophical wit. She always had a joke, story, or tidbit of wisdom to tell. Even when her health was failing, she maintained her terrific storytelling ability to make others feel good and smile. She would have been a great standup comedian! Many of the staff at Hooverwood, where she spent her final days, would stop by her room to hear a joke or story so they could leave work with a laugh and a smile.

Funeral services were held at Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary on July 2, and burial followed at the B'nai Torah Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that contributions in her memory be made to Congregation B'nai Torah, Hasten Hebrew Academy, and Hooverwood Guild.

Anne Sarah Bolotin Ganz passed away with grace on July 17, 2014 in Scottsdale, Ariz. She was born on October 24, 19?? (a lady never tells her age) in Winnipeg, Canada and moved to Indianapolis as a young child. Her real life began on January 2, 1938 when she married Dr. Max Ganz and moved to Marion, Ind., where they raised three children. Anne had a huge impact on everyone who knew her; she will be profoundly missed by her family, who dearly loved her. She is survived by her three children, Marilyn (Richard) Varon, David (Jacqueline) Ganz, Philip (Jodie) Ganz, seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Benjamin Greenberg, 84, of Indianapolis passed away July 20. He was born Jan. 4, 1930. A Graveside Service was held at Ezras Achim Cemetery on July 22.

Arthur J. Klein, 84, of Carmel passed away July 26. He was born on July 2, 1930, to Samuel and Henrietta Klein. Arthur was a graduate of Shortridge High School where he was named "All City Fullback" twice and was a proud recipient of a football Scholarship to The Citadel. After receiving his Bachelor of Science Degree in 1952 from Indiana University, Arthur became a Metals Broker owning and operating Arthur J. Klein and Associates until his retirement in 1998 with over 40 years of service.

He was a member of Shaarey Tefilla Congregation, a former member of Congregation Beth-El Zedeck, and a member of Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity.

Survivors include his loving wife; Ruth Edelman Klein; Sons; Marc D. (Pam) Klein, and Matthew S. (Lydia) Klein both of Indianapolis; Brother; Norman S. (Pat) Klein; 4 grandchildren; Ben, Alec, Will, and Kara (Peter); 2 great-grandchildren; Vivian and Georgia.

Graveside services were held July 28 in the Beth-El Cemetery North. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to The Alzheimer's or Related Diseases Association, in memory of Arthur J. Klein. Arrangements entrusted to Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary. Friends may leave a memory or message of condolence at www.arnmortuary.com.

Marilyn F. Hicks, 73, of Brownsburg, passed away July 27. She was born in Indianapolis to Benjamin and Mollie Goldman on May 13, 1941. She received her Associate's Degree from Indiana University and later studied at the Herron School of Art.

She worked in furniture sales and interior decorating at Emmerich's Furniture for many years, retiring in 1998. Marilyn was a former member of Congregation Beth-El Zedeck. She had a wonderful sense of humor and enjoyed dining out. She loved holiday celebrations, especially Thanksgiving.

Marilyn is survived by her husband, Forrest; son, Bradley Scott (Tiffany) Greenberg; daughters, Cynthia Hicks, Liz Fitzgerald, and Katherine J. (Mike) Smith; eight grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and brother, Steve (Susan) Goldman.

A funeral service was held at the Aaron-Ruben-Nelson Mortuary on July 30 and burial followed in Congregation Beth-El Zedeck North Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association or Susan G. Komen for the Cure. ✨

(I pray that they may have a long life with good health and much joy. May they be a blessing always to their mother – my granddaughter Hindi – and her husband, their father Adam.)

Henya Chalet is the Yiddish name for Mrs. A. Helen Feinn. Born in 1924 ten days before Passover, her parents had come to America one year prior. They spoke only Yiddish at home so that is all she spoke until age five when she started kindergarten. She then learned English, but has always loved Yiddish and speaks it whenever possible. Chalet lived in La Porte and Michigan City, Ind., from 1952 to 1978 and currently resides in Walnut Creek, Calif. Email: afeinn87@gmail.com. ✨

On Sunday, July 20 at the Arthur M. Glick JCC, Lubavitch of Indiana sponsored a tribute commemorating the 20th anniversary of the passing of Rebbe Menachem Mendel Schneerson. A video was shown, a nice kosher lunch was served and Rabbi Avrohom Grossbaum, Rabbi Shusterman and Vika Farahan spoke. Rabbi Benjamin Sendrow led tehillim (psalms) for our brothers and sisters in Israel. Vika told of her own experience and her children's experience with Chabad. A diverse crowd from the Indianapolis Jewish community attended.

Sam Lerner Teen Jeopardy semi-finalist

With poise and finesse, Sam Lerner made Indianapolis proud with his scintillating performance in the semi-finals on Teen Jeopardy. As a sophomore at North Central High School, Sam was chosen as one of fifteen contestants for the tournament. Tens of thousands of teens from all over the country took the online qualifying test, and Sam was chosen from among the 300 who achieved a certain score. In the semi-finals he played against two juniors, one of whom won on the TV show which aired on July 30. While in Los Angeles for the taping, Sam and his parents got to know the other competitors and their families. Sam keeps in touch with his fellow contestants, and his parents keep in touch with their parents.

Sam also participates in North Central High School's Quiz Bowl team and is one of the four members of the school's Brain Game team. The Brain Game, which airs locally on WTHR each week, is a quiz show in which local high schools compete against each other. The North Central team won the Brain Game championship this year for the third year in a row. Sam is the son of Charles and Susan Lerner and became a bar mitzvah at Etz Chaim Sephardic Congregation. ✨

Nadav Keisari becomes a Bar Mitzvah

Nadav Keisari, son of Parisa Keisari and Israel Keisari, grandson of Rakhel and Farid Farahan and Naomi and Aryeh Keisari of Ramat Gan, Israel became a Bar Mitzvah at B'nai Torah on June 14. This year he will be an 8th grader at Hasten Hebrew Academy.

While studying Parashat Shelach in preparation for his Bar Mitzvah, Nadav feels he learned many valuable lessons. One in particular is to guard against Lashon Harah or derogatory speech and gossip because of the calamities that befell the Jewish people when they were not careful how they were speaking.

If he were to give advice to future B'nai Mitzvahs, he would tell them to start learning as far in advance as possible and to take up a small section at a time so they will not be overwhelmed by the all they need to learn. Also, not to stress themselves when the day comes because everyone goes through it and they should enjoy their special day.

He would especially like to thank Rabbi Yisroel Homnick for teaching him to read from the Torah and Rabbi Yisrael and Rebbetzin Miriam Gettinger for supporting him throughout his education. He would also like to thank the following people for all of their help: Nancy and Maryo Pasarel, Rabbi Mordechai Tzvi Rotstein, The Farahan-Mintz family, Natan Farahan, Vika and David Farahan, Khorshid Golian, The Ahdoot family, Michael Rose, The Deborah Sisterhood of Etz Chaim, Sylvia DeCastro, Anna Solooki, and a special thanks to Mom, Dad and Keisari Catering for all of the scrumptious food. ✨
